Installation instructions - Cloudz & Ceiling absorbent

First attach the supplied wire rope to the ceiling.

Fasteners are not provided by Zilenzio. This is because all the roof are so different.

If the absorber should be attached to the ceiling, there is a ceiling bracket to mount the roof rail system. Then attach the cable to the bracket.

Once the wire is in place then it into the cable lock and height set. On vertical absorbers stand up a screw pin. Then you just to thread the wire-lock.

On Cloudz and horizontal absorbers so it sits a screw stick at the wire-lock. The threaded onto the cable before entering the lock.

The wires wood always down through the small narrow part of the lock and out through the small hole on the side. The small narrow part can be pushed down to release the lock if you need to change the height.
